Revelation 7:9, 14b-17

Dressed for Heaven

We do not know what we will look like in heaven. At the resurrection of the body, will we have the body of our youth? Will we look as we do when we die? These are natural questions, but eternal life will be far greater than what we can now imagine. When we are freed from time and place, we will enter the mysterious presence of God in ways more perfect than we can know.

Still, people use metaphors to envision eternal life, and the Book of Revelation is no exception. John sees a great multitude standing before the throne and the Lamb, “wearing white robes and holding palm branches in their hands.” John saw heaven in a vision of vesture and accessories.

White robes clothe heavenly beings in several passages of the New Testament. Jesus’ clothes turn white at the transfiguration. Angels clothed in white appear at the resurrection. Heavenly beings throughout the Book of Revelation wear white. This is one reason why we wear white on the day of our baptism, and why we cover a Christian’s coffin with a white cloth. We are clothed already in the uniform of heaven.

The festive palm branch is a sign of the victory of eternal life. Artists throughout the ages have depicted saints carrying palms.

We do not know what we will wear or carry, but we can expect that the Lamb will shepherd us to springs of life-giving water.

Fall Festival Meeting Recap

Thank you to all who attended the Fall Festival Meeting on April 30th. Those in attendance voted to have the festival again and out of the three dates considered, October 6 was selected. Many new ideas were discussed. A second planning meeting will be held in the hall on Sunday, June 30th after the morning Mass.

A volunteer sign-up sheet will be placed in the Narthex in July. Please consider assisting in any way you can. Your time and talent will be greatly appreciated.

IMPORTANT: PLEASE READ

Effective immediately, please DO NOT PARK in front of the church. This area is for dropping off people prior to Mass or for emergency vehicles only. The parish appreciates your prompt attention with this matter.
